A-Engines for Carriers?

Dispute Rages Between Pentagon, Navy Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy believes U.S. atomic know-how is moving ahead so rapidly that before long it will be dollar-foolish to build surface warships with fuel oil engines rather than nuclear power plants.

It is supported by the Atomic Energy Commission, which in effect touched off the current dispute between the Defense Department and the Navy.

Many months ago, it was learned, AEC Chairman Glenn Seaborg suggested to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that nuclear power costs were coming down and that the Pentagon should give thought to wider application of atomic power to surface vessels.

May Yet Win War
The Navy may have lost the first battle—but with powerful backing on Capitol Hill it may yet win the war.

Secretary of the Navy Fred

Korth's abrupt resignation, announced Monday, appears the tipoff that McNamara probably will deny the Navy permission to install nuclear engines in a new aircraft carrier for which Congress last year voted $280 million.

The Navy is not talking about the studies it made to support its bid for the new carrier and, beyond that, for all future warships heavier than 8,000 tons.

But certain members of Congress are aware of the Navy findings, and the matter may come out on the public record if hearings are held.

Cost Is Pivotal Factor
Cost is a pivotal factor both on the issue of the carriers' future as a weapon either conventionally or atomic-powered, and the longer range matter of building warships of various kinds with nuclear power plants.

The United States some years ago made a start on a nuclear surface fleet but the Pentagon changed direction when costs began getting out of hand. The 85,000-ton Enterprise, world's first and only nuclear carrier, ran up a bill of $474 million.

But Seaborg reported to McNamara that technological progress had been so marked that four nuclear engines installed in the new carrier could furnish about as much power as the eight reactors that propel the Enterprise.

He also said that the new type engines could use atomic fuel with more than double the life expectancy of those used in the Enterprise's engines.

Show Costs Dropping
Navy studies that followed showed that the costs of installing atomic power plants were dropping and are expected to drop even more. The nuclear engines also are expected to improvement in efficiency. The Navy studies that followed showed that the costs of installing atomic power plants were dropping and are expected to drop even more. The nuclear engines also are expected to im-

Nitze Questioning May Start Ruckus

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's appointment of a new Navy secretary may set off a chain reaction leading to congressional explosion over a tentative Pentagon decision to den the Navy any more nuclear carriers.

When Paul H. Nitze, named Monday to succeed Fred Korth, comes before the Senate for confirmation, it seems certain he will be asked for his views on the continuing controversy over whether carriers should be phased out in favor of missiles and missile-firing submarines.

Korth, who said he was resigning to "attend to my pressing private affairs," probably will be asked to explain if his decision had any connection with his apparently futile efforts to get a new nuclear carrier built.

Associates said his defeat in the nuclear power argument sped his decision to quit.

Some Congress members said they thought Korth's action stemmed from the row over the controversial TFX warplane contract award, and Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said Korth will be questioned again about it.

Korth has told the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., that a bank he formerly headed in Fort Worth, Tex., joined several others in making a loan to the General Dynamics Corp.

General Dynamics was given the TFX contract by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara despite a claim by the Boeing

PAUL H. NITZE

Co. that it could produce the TFX — tactical fighter, experimental — cheaper. Korth supported the award to General Dynamics.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he thinks there will be no serious opposition to confirmation of Nitze, who now is assistant secretary of defense for international affairs. He was named to the post by Kennedy in 1961.

The nomination of Nitze, 55, will go to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

In announcing the Navy switch the White House disclosed that Korth wrote his resignation last Friday.

W. 2nd St. Job Is Under Way

Bulldozers Speed Up Earth Removal

Work on the extension of W. 2nd St. from Jennings Ave. to Pennsylvania Ave. was started Monday by the Hoopes Construction Co.

Two "pans" and two giant dozers worked five and one-half hours and removed approximately 3,000 cubic yards of earth along the middle of the project in the vicinity of the old Stark Electric right-of-way.

At both ends work has yet to be done because of the creek (Buttermilk Run) which crosses the road. The use of the "pans" — giant earth-moving machines — sped the time estimate on the job from 60 days to approximately 45.

The extension of W. 2nd St. is included in a project which, when completed will have both 2nd and W. 3rd streets extended to Pennsylvania Ave. which runs parallel to the railroad tracks.

Part of the land necessary for the extension of W. 2nd St. was given to the city by Carl Sekely, owner of Sekely Industrial Tool and Manufacturing Co. in exchange for a portion of Stewart Ave.

Phillis Barn Burns; Loss Is $8,000

Fire completely destroyed a barn and its contents on the farm of Mrs. Charles Phillis Sr. on the Depot Rd. Monday night, causing damage estimated at $8,000.

According to Mrs. Phillis, a combine, new grain drill, about 600 bales of hay, straw and six chickens perished in the blaze. A manure spreader and a tractor-trailer truck which were parked nearby were slightly damaged.

Origin of the fire has not been determined but officials believe it may have been caused by faulty wiring. A metal granary nearby was not damaged.

This is the second time in six months that fire has plagued Mrs. Phillis. On April 11 her home burned. She moved into her new house about a week and one-half ago.

Salem firemen were called to the scene at 7:40 p.m. but found the fire out of control. The Winona Fire Department also was at the scene with two trucks and a Civil Defense truck.

The local department answered two other calls Monday. At 1:58 p.m. a motor on a clothes dryer owned by G. D. Edgerton of 659 E. School St. caught on fire. Damages were confined to the motor.

No damage was reported when grass and brush on the lot at the corner of Jefferson Ave. and Whinnery Rd. burned at 3:48 p.m. The lot is owned by Don Santee.

Beaver Board Gives Teachers Added Duties

Grants 3 Pay Hikes, Approves Rates of Budget Commission

Robert E. Fletcher was assigned by the Beaver Local School District Board of Education Monday night to coach some 36 freshmen gridgers.

The teacher was also assigned to teach a noon typing class that has been organized for pupils who cannot take the course during regular school hours.

Additional assignments were given to David K. Wilson who will direct drama and Margaret Alexee, who will direct the publication of the journalism class' paper, 'Beaver Tales'.

Salary Increases Granted

Salary increases were granted to Mrs. Polly Davies, Mrs. John Brenot and Mrs. Grace Paul who have accumulated additional training.

Amounts and rates as established by the county budget commission were accepted by the board for 1964. Dr. George Van Horne, executive head, said the figures are based on the passage of the upcoming 7-mill levy. If the levy should be defeated by voters Nov. 5, then the amounts and rates would be reduced by the commission.

Millage inside the 10-mill limitation is 4.6. Outside millage is 17.2 for general operating expenses (contingent upon the passage of the mill levy), 6 mills for bond retirement and one-half mill in payment of state aid received during the recent building program. In actual figures the millage represents $247,406 on the 17.2 mills; $86,305 on the bond retirement; and $7,192 on the half-mill to the state.

Approved Purchase Method

The board approved the newly proposed method of centrally purchasing school buses by the State Board of Education and will, upon request of the state board, advise the group that the district is in the market for four buses by November, 1964, providing the Nov. 5 levy passes.

The district, hard pressed for funds, stands to save between $1,200 and $1,500 by buying through the state, Dr. Van Horne estimated. Under the pre-

Mental Hygiene Dept. Reorganization Urged

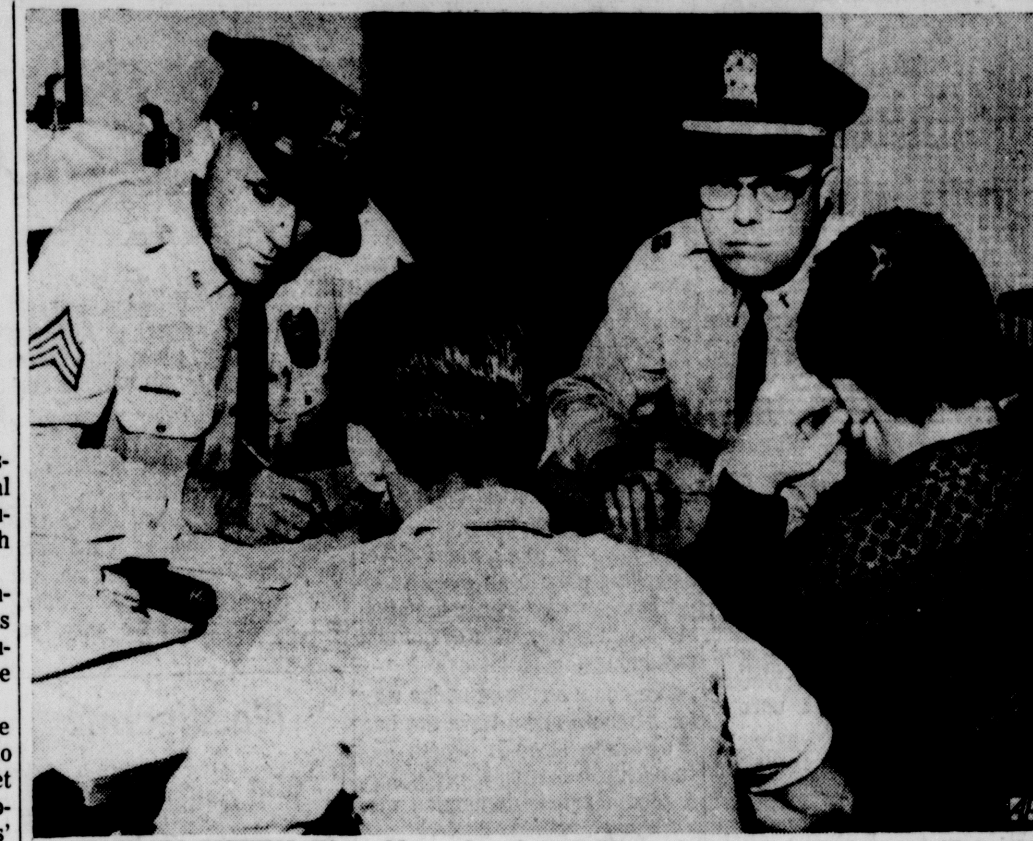

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Reorganization of Ohio's sprawling Mental Hygiene and Correction Department would save $4.6 million a year, the "Little Hoover Commission" estimated in a report today.

The report by a team of industrial management experts on loan to the state for a sweeping governmental survey listed 61 recommendations for consideration by Gov. James A. Rhodes and the legislature.

They included creation of a department of mental hygiene, youth and correctional services embracing present agencies, the newly established Ohio Youth Commission, the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Sandusky and the Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home at Xenia.

Other recommendations would transfer auditing to the state auditor, place the Bureau of Support's billing for mental patients under a state fiscal agency, determine support payments on gross annual income, devise ways to acquire and train professional personnel, merge state parole officers with county probation officers and require juvenile support payments.

Estimated savings from a revamped department, added to a

Secretary Has Tough 'Selling' Job

Senate Unit Hears Dillon On Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon began the job today of selling President Kennedy's tax cut package to what may be the toughest customer on Capitol Hill—Sen. Harry F. Byrd and his Senate Finance Committee.

After waiting through 20 days of closed hearings, Dillon appeared today with a thick sheaf of facts and figures that stressed a need for urgency in approving the $11 billion reduction this year.

Said Dillon, "It is essential to the well-being of the nation that every effort be made to complete action on this bill before the end of the current year . . . the nation has waited too long for relief from the stifling burden of excess taxes."

Byrd, the Virginia Democrat called by many "the watchdog of the Treasury," opposes a tax cut without balancing cuts in spending. He prefers to hold up action on the cut until the 1964 session to put pressure on Kennedy to put the brakes on the budget.

Dillon argued strongly against this.

"The need for a major program of tax reduction and revision is pressing," he said. "I firmly believe that to delay its passage would incur serious economic risks."

The President says the tax cut would give families extra money to buy dishwashers or make a down payment on a new car, plants money to buy new equipment, and free more money for investment. This, he and his advisers say, will put the economy in high gear, and also bring in more taxes ultimately.

In his statement, packed with charts on what the reduction would do for taxpayers, Dillon

Beloit Hits Rate Hike Plan Of Gas Firm

BELOIT — Council Monday night balked at new rates proposed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. which hopes to institute a blanket raise here of $1.35 per customer or an over-all rate increase of 10 per cent.

The governing body, led by President John Snyder, maintains the proposed contract is unfair for two reasons: (1) other district communities have had their rates increased by much smaller percentages, and (2) the basis for adjusting the rates is unrealistic since new users, especially the new West Branch High School and Beloit Elementary School, were apparently not taken into consideration.

As numbers of users increase, rates are generally proportionally less. Gas rates here were last raised four years ago.

Hopes for installing the sidewalk in the village leading to the new high school waned as Council became bogged down in opinion differences over details. The village solicitor is expected to draw up an ordinance for the sidewalk construction after the group agrees to specifications.

Sewerage system plans also have been temporarily sidetracked until after the election.

School Board Sets Meeting For Oct. 28

Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith said today the Board of Education meeting, regularly held the third Monday of each month, has been postponed until Oct. 28 since a quorum can not be present next week.

Bus Purchase Plan Studied

Ohio School Board Takes No Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Controversial proposals concerning centralized state purchasing of school buses and limitation of inter-scholastic sports to the top four high school grades came up before the State Board of Education Monday. But no action was taken on the issues.

The board is considering a plan to centralize bus-buying as an economy measure. The plan would involve state contract bidding administered by the state.

Opposition to the plan was voiced by Dwayne Shields of Superior Corp., Lima, and president of the School Bus Body Institute. He said the plan would bring about ruinous price competition in an industry already having difficulty, would threaten the future of 28 Ohio distributing firms and would cripple research and development by the school bus industry.

In reporting on a study made by an advisory committee on possible policies covering extracurricular activities, Mrs. Jeanette S. Wagner of Chagrin Falls, committee chairman, said junior high school students are "neither mentally nor physically equipped" for interscholastic activities. However, she said the committee felt that junior high students should be able to take part in intramural sports.

In other actions, the board: —Revoked charters of three Trumbull County high schools, effective June 30, 1964, for violation of minimum standards. They are Bristol Rural, Southington Local and Farmington Villate Local.

—Approved submission to voters of 33 bond issues in districts where passage would exceed 6 per cent of the district tax valuation.

Invaders Bringing Up Reinforcements, Algiers Radio Says

ALGIERS (AP)—Algiers Radio claimed today that Algerian forces have recaptured two desert outposts taken by Moroccan troops Monday.

The Algerians said Moroccan troops supported by tanks, planes and heavy artillery swept up to 60 miles over the border Monday in the area of Hassi-Beida and Tinjoub, the outposts.

The Algerian government never officially admitted that the two places fell to the Moroccan invaders. But today, the radio announcer said in a triumphant voice:

"Our forces have cleared the invaders from Hassi-Beida and Tinjoub."

Report Reinforcements

The broadcast said the Moroccan forces were bringing in heavy reinforcements. It alleged that some of the Moroccan troops were airlifted to the fighting area in planes piloted by American airmen, members of a U.S. military training detachment with the Royal Moroccan Air Force.

The clash occurred in an area 300 miles across the Atlas Mountains from Marrakech, Morocco, where Mrs. John F. Kennedy is visiting this week. U.S. Ambassador John H. Ferguson indicated in Marrakech that the border clash would not curtail Mrs. Kennedy's stay, which is to last until Wednesday or Thursday.

Reported No Casualties

The Algerians said that bitter fighting continued throughout Monday, but Moroccan authorities in Rabat said that all fighting ended after their troops oc-

Bloodmobile Returns to City Oct. 24

Salem blood officials are now at work in an effort to register 176 prospective donors when the Northern Ohio Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the city Oct. 24.

The Bloodmobile will be stationed at the United Steelworkers Hall at 547 Prospect St., where Salem's record blood collection of 163 pints was made last April.

Kenneth Rogers is general industrial recruitment chairman, while Miss Carmen McNicol serves as general church recruitment chairman. Mrs. Lyle Biehler and Mrs. George Peterson are co-chairman of residential recruitment.

Louis J. Ramond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross program, explained that, even though the quota is 125 pints, it is necessary to overschedule donors. Some donors fail to keep appointments, while others are deferred by the attending physicians.

He urged all workers to exceed the October quota, explaining that Lisbon had failed to make the September quota, Salem had no overage in August and East Palestine, although exceeding the quota, was considerably under its visit of a year ago.

The chairman warned that "we are considerably behind last year's blood production."

The Fraternal Order of Eagles No. 316 and its Auxiliary will sponsor the visit, provide the food and manage the canteen with Mrs. A. R. Stark, chairman.

Halloween Parade Set Here Night of Oct. 31

The annual Halloween parade and costume judging sponsored by the Charles H. Carey American Legion post, will be held Oct. 31, Roger Tuel and Bob Whitehill, co-chairmen, announced today.

The parade will form at 6:30 p.m. on W. State St. between Jennings Ave. and Ellsworth Ave. ending at the Junior High School where costume judging will be held.

Leslie Brantingham, judging chairman, says the judging will be divided into many categories with prizes being presented to at least the first three places in each division.

In case of rain, marchers are instructed to go directly to the school where the judging will take place.

Police Chief Martin Lutch is traffic chairman and John Herman Jr., Legion post commander, will be parade marshal. Herman says that anyone wishing to enter a unit or float in the parade should contact him as soon as possible. Polical floats will not be permitted, he added.

Units already entered in the parade are the Junior and Senior High School Bands, the Salem police department and car dealers who will display their 1964 models.

The Salem Area Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the Legion in sponsoring the annual event.

Negro In Georgia Election Admits Lost Cause

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Citizens of this Georgia city choose a Democratic candidate for mayor today from among three persons—the first Negro ever to run for the office and two white segregationists.

All three agree that Negro integration leader Slater King has not a chance of winning the primary, but for different reasons. King, 35, a native of Albany, says he hopes the campaign has helped members of his race to think politically.

"I am really interested in freeing the minds of Negroes because many of them feel that no Negro should aspire for high office," he said. King is a real estate broker.

The white candidates are attorney James V. Davis and architect Edward V. Jones.

Davis, a former state representative, expressed the belief there will be a runoff and that King will be in it.

But, he said, "I don't think he has a chance of winning unless the white people sit down and don't go to the polls. People are rather excited about the election and I don't believe they'll do that."

Jones, who describes himself as "a Goldwater conservative," based much of his campaign on opposition to what he called federal interference.

"I am against socialism and in favor of states rights," he said. "I am against a biracial committee."

Failure of the city to establish a biracial committee to discuss Negro grievances is one of several issues which brought intermittent civil rights demonstrations and more than 1,200 arrests during the past two years.

Albany has a population of 58,000, including about 24,000 Negroes. There are an estimated 4,600 Negroes among the 16,436 registered voters.

Political observers think King will get most of the Negro vote and that this will put him into a runoff. A majority is necessary for election.

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. is not seeking re-election.

Writer Takes 'Cure' at 'Stop-Smoking Clinic'

EDITOR'S NOTE: A month has gone by since AP staff writer Michael Keating and 59 other men attempted to quit smoking in an experimental clinic sponsored by Roswell Park Memorial Institute, New York State's cancer-research center. Here is Keating's third report.

By MICHAEL KEATING

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—After 15 years and 109,500 cigarettes, I have quit smoking.

So have 29 other men—all of us taking part in an experimental stop-smoking clinic that bolsters will power with drugs and psychology.

The clinic has been under way for a month and I have not had a cigarette since it began. Desire for one is almost negligible. A month ago it dominated me. Although clinic doctors are withholding final judgment on their work until six months have passed, my mind is made up—Roswell Park Memorial Institute has a technique that helps a smoker stop without too much of a wrench.

Of the 60 men who started in the clinic a month ago, 30 no longer are smoking, 19 have reduced their smoking by at least half, one man has cut back less than half, and 10 others dropped out.

When the clinic began, Dr. Charles A. Ross, the director, said that if 50 per cent quit smoking for six months he would consider the clinic a success.

Besides will power, the clinic employs the psychology of group action and two drugs—one to substitute for nicotine, the other to control appetite, which often increases sharply in the absence of smoking.

Drugs were given for the first two weeks to 30 of the men. Other 30 received imitations. Neither the doctors nor the participants know who received the drugs. This information is contained in a code that will not be broken until the six months have passed.

Ross thinks that at least some of the men quit without benefit of the drug—lobeline, which stimulates the nervous system as does nicotine.

Participants in the experiment report varying reactions. Arnold Winer, a 28-year-old teacher, says, "I haven't had a cigarette since the clinic began and I haven't missed them."

Donald R. Denk, 38, a lawyer who decided to quit smoking after suffering a perforated ulcer, reports "I stayed off about 10 days." Then came a cocktail party, and he flunked.

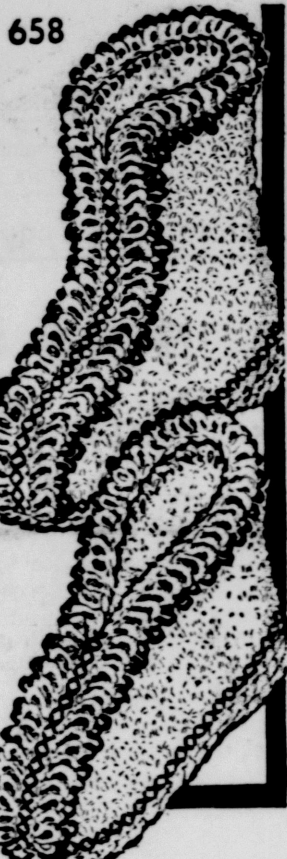

He is smoking about a pack a day, half of his previous consumption.

I have passed the cocktail test and the other tests — drinking coffee, facing tense situations, arguing politics, all without benefit of cigarettes.

Housewives Will Find Meat More Plentiful, Prices Lower

Pork supplies one of the features in food markets of the area this week. Seasonal increases in hog marketings have boosted the amount of pork being sold considerably above August and early September levels. In fact, September pork production was the largest on record for the month.

This sizable increase in volume has been reflected in lower live animal prices, and decreasing wholesale and retail prices. Wholesale prices on pork loins are in the 41-45 cents per pound range. This is less than one month ago and some 6 cents less than one year ago.

MORE PORK on the market will especially effect the retail price of fresh cuts. Loins and Boston butts are most affected by lower prices. In most retail markets, retail choices coming from the wholesale cuts, are rib and pork chops, pork steak, rib roasts and fresh shoulder roasts. Price declines will be less likely on center cut chops since the demand is strong for this popular item, and the number of center cut chops available from each carcass is quite small. More pork puts the greatest price pressure on the cuts of lower value.

Market reports indicate that large supplies of pork will continue through the fall months with some price recovery expected towards the latter part of the year.

Last year at this time beef was not plentiful. This fall beef supplies remain relatively large. The amount of beef coming to market during the next couple of months is likely to be 8-10 per cent larger than last fall. For several weeks prices will remain at about the present levels, although the price of the better grades, U. S. Choice, for example, has increased a little this week. Beef carcass prices in Chicago are seven to eight dollars per hundred weight less than last fall.

In addition to rather abundant sources of beef and pork, broiler supplies this month will likely be only slightly larger than last year. Wholesale prices are some four cents below the level of a year ago.

EGG PRODUCTION is just beginning to show a seasonal increase. This time of year there is a greater proportion of small and medium sized eggs for sale. Consequently the price difference between medium and large sized eggs during the fall months is greater than usual. Chances of additional declines are greater on the small and medium sizes for the next few weeks.

Potatoes are still being harvested in northern Ohio, although the bulk of the crops now in storage. From all indications Ohio has a crop of excellent quality with yields a bit higher than one year ago. Total potato production for the U.S. for 1963 is just about the same as in 1962.

Potatoes are sold mostly by wholesale grades. These grades are US Fancy, US No. 1, US Commercial, and US No. 2. By far the largest amount of potatoes in retail stores are sold as US No. 1's. A grower, packer, distributor or retailer may sort and grade potatoes for market. If potatoes are sold as US No. 1, they must meet the U.S. standards for the grade. U.S. or State inspectors spot check markets to see that graded products meet specifications.

Since this is National Apple Week, this fruit should be one of the real good choices for fresh fruit. Not only are many retailers putting this product on sale but the selection of different kinds of apples are at a peak during this period of the year. For instance, available to retailers in the wholesale market this week are McIntosh, Jonathans, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Cortlands, and others. Prices on apples this week will be close to the seasonal low. Apples, too, are sold by grades. The more highly colored, more perfect fruit being labeled US Extra Fancy, fruit with less color US Fancy and fruit with less desirable color US No. 1.

ADDITIONAL FRUIT CHOICES this week include grapefruit and grapes, pears, and plums. The first of the new cranberry crop also is beginning to appear in local markets. Melon prices are holding about the same, except for Cranshaws and Casabans. These are slightly higher.

Economical choices for fresh vegetables are quite varied. With potatoes leading the parade, tomatoes, lettuce, eggplant, carrots, beets, celery, squash, peppers, cauliflower, and cabbage are all examples of fresh produce ready and willing to fill your market basket.

The Long Road to Munich

In the 25 years that have passed since modern history passed the Munich milestone there has been close attention given to what happened afterward only casual attention to what had happened before.

The long road to Munich was not as exciting as the short road that was followed afterward, leading to the outbreak of World War II a year later. But it reveals more than there was time to look at between the appeasement of Adolf Hitler and his fateful decision to overrun Poland.

There had been a progressive deterioration of the will to resist aggression. France had gone through a political transformation that had destroyed its initiative. It had been transformed into a kind of welfare state, interested in saving what it had. The Maginot Line, its disastrously static defense, was an invitation to its neighbors to attack it. Britain, weakened by its terrible manpower losses in World War I, was interested in keeping "Peace in our time," as Prime Minister Chamberlain said had been done when Agreement allowing the German army to march into Czechoslovakia.

Chamberlain was wrong, of course, and history has blamed him for it. But he was a result, not a cause. He was the result of a progressive deterioration of the strength of Britain and its allies in Europe. When the time came, he had no choice but to stall for time. Winston Churchill, the realist of the moment, declared, "We have sustained a total and unmitigated defeat."

He had seen defeat coming. He knew the extent of the unpreparedness. Munich would have been no disaster had it been backed by British strength and French determination. But it was backed with nothing. Germany had been given a monopoly of dynamic force by Anglo-French default.

Down to Earth--Kerplunk!

It now seems likely that if President Kennedy had talked with James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, he never would have mentioned a joint U.S.-Soviet moon flight.

Administrator Webb says it's out of the question.

This repeats the judgment of everybody who has commented on the proposal since it was made last Sept. 20. "There is room for new cooperation in the field of space," said President Kennedy in a speech to the General Assembly of the United Nations. "I include among these possibilities a joint expedition to the moon."

This side remark, incidental to the President's main theme—peace and disarmament—stole the headlines. It sparked a lively discussion in this country. But it fell as flat in the Soviet Union as if fell here. The reason is plain, as far as the Russians are concerned.

The Soviet Union's space experts have nothing to gain by getting hooked up to the U.S. space program. They know they have the only booster in existence strong enough for a moon shot. They have made the only near approach to a junction of two rockets in space.

On the reasonable assumption that no news turns out to be the lull before another burst of sensational news in the Russian space program, another burst of news is due. All that has been coming out of the U.S. space program recently is persistent evidence that it is lapsing into one of those incredible foul-ups that afflict public projects in this country.

Things go from bad to worse and finally to worst, until finally the government has no choice but to shake up the whole snafu and start over.

Not Helpless, Just Paralyzed

There is doubt about the validity of some of the Valachi testimony before Senate investigators—and the doubt is out of proportion to certainty about other testimony the imprisoned gangster is giving.

It is certain the conditions he is describing existed when he said they did. His memory about details may be murky. But he is correct in the over-all outline of criminal activities in New York City in the '30s. The story has been told before. It's old.

It has been told about New York, Chicago, Detroit, New Orleans, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

being used to corrupt police departments and law enforcement officials.

It is the story of tainted money being poured into political campaigns, bidding for renewal of licenses to steal from the helpless, to cater to the lawless and to undermine the decency of American society.

GOVERNMENT is not helpless per se in the face of this sinister subversion. It is made to seem helpless only by the way criminal elements paralyze its power to defend itself. They do this by using their easy money to buy off public officials of easy virtue.

This is the part of the story the Senate questioners should try hardest to hammer out of the gangster trying to prolong his misspent life by squealing on his pals before government questioners. It is the part that never has been brought into the open.

Get the Point?

If traffic violators are harboring any notion that they will find the Columbiana county courts more lenient, now that the habitual offenders are being referred to the lower courts, they are in for a rude awakening.

State law, which heretofore required that repeaters appear in common pleas courts, has not been relaxed one bit. Any motorist amassing 12 (traffic violation) points in two years automatically has his or her operator's permit revoked.

An arrest and conviction for drunken driving or hit-skip will get a 6-point demerit lodged on the reverse side of your driver's license. Reckless driving will mean 3 points; manslaughter or drag racing, 6 points; driving while license is under suspension, 6; speeding, 2, and all other moving violation of motor vehicle laws, 2 points.

New dockets for keeping tab on the records of all the habitual traffic offenders—past and present—have been distributed to the lower courts.

Motoring is a responsibility, as well as a pleasure. Get the point?

Mobsters In the Unions

By VICTOR RIESEL

Joe Valachi's Cosa Nostra—"our thing"—made sections of the labor movement "their thing." About one third of the nation's crime cartel chiefs have been in the union rackets for years. By actual count, 23 of the delegates to the Cosa Nostra national convention in tiny Apalachin, N. Y., on Nov. 13, 1957, were operating or dominating powerful union locals right across the U.S.—but mostly from the East Coast to Chicago.

This is buried in the secret "information" Valachi has given to the FBI and the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and to William Hundley, chief of the Justice Department's special division on organized crime.

It's beginning to seep through Valachi's public testimony and that of the experts appearing before the McClellan committee.

Many of the Apalachin, N. Y., mobsters — high in the confidence of the Mafia control commission or "council" — still are powerful to local unions.

Some of the senators on the subcommittee now plan to ask the Senate Labor Committee to follow through with a wide open investigation of the infiltration into unions.

THEY WANT to know how the mobs got into the locals — and how some of them have been able to retain power.

Typical of a union which has been infiltrated is the Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers. Its national office is clean. Its books and national welfare and pension funds are impeccable. But it apparently is powerless to police some of its locals.

There are, for example, some hod carriers' locals in New York and Northern New Jersey which have been "influenced" by Apalachin delegates who were buddies either of Valachi himself, Lucky Luciano, John Ormento (now doing 40 years on a narcotics conviction), Frank Livorski, Johnny Dio or Tony (Ducks) Carallo.

A top adviser to a Cosa Nostra national commissioner, according to John F. Shanley, deputy inspector of the New York Police Department's intelligence activities, is Vincent Rao. Not too long ago Rao, who also is in many businesses, was head of Hod Carriers Local 404. This was an influential outfit operating out of Rao's vest pocket.

RAO SIMPLY declared himself president of the local, which used a Brooklyn apartment as who was a trustee of Local its nominal headquarters' address.

Other Apalachin crime cartel chiefs who cut in on hod carriers' units were Lewis Larasso, who was a trustee of Local 394 of the Hod Carriers at the time of the Cosa Nostra convention. Another delegate, Rosario Mancuso, once president of Local 186 of the hod carriers.

There was Frank Majuri, also a delegate, who was mighty influential in Local 364.

This was not limited to the East Coast. A big time Chicago gambler by name of Alfred Pilotto was president of Hod Carriers Local 5 until 1962. After that he would drop into the union headquarters almost daily and conduct his own business in its offices and over its phones.

He is a good friend of Tony Accardo, long believed to be one of the two top crime syndicate chiefs in the Chicago area.

Almost all trails opened by Valachi or such police experts as Shanley, lead not only to the multi-million dollar narcotics trade which will be probed for another three weeks but also to labor rackets.

There is the Gallo mob — described in some federal documents as the successor to Murder, Inc. One of the first operations of this gang was something known as Local 19, of the Federated Service Workers Union (FSWU). They got a charter from this independent FSWU simply by muscling in.

They were planning to use Local 19 to capture the bigger outfit — which incidentally had among its objectives the unionization of bank employees in the Brooklyn area.

Valachi has linked other crime bosses and "bosses of bosses" to other unions. But any further discussion of his revelations would simply impede current investigations and give the hoods' lawyers a chance to scream mistrial in future court cases. So it just is not worth giving the mobs a chance to get off the hook.

THERE WILL BE convictions — and a demand for more laws. After a session the other day, Senator Javits told this columnist that:

"Valachi's answer to my question that as an alleged dress manufacturer he prevented unionization of his employees simply by calling Cosa Nostra member Johnny Dio raises again the question of the adequacy of existing federal law to keep racketeers out of labor-management relations."

"I believe the Senate's Labor Committee should make inquiry into whether non-unionization or 'paper' unions or such racketeering intrusions into the labor field are being effectively blocked by such existing laws as the Hobbs Anti-Racketeering Act, first enacted in 1934 and Labor - Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959."

"This grew out of hearings some years ago by the same investigations subcommittee now questioning Valachi."

It looks like Joe "Cago" Valachi has opened a Pandora's box — and she ain't no horse in the third.

Her race has just begun.

Blockade Blunder

By DAVID LAWRENCE

When the Soviet troops blocked United States armored units on the way to West Berlin a few days ago and suddenly increased tension, there were two schools of thought in Washington. One was that the step was deliberately undertaken in Moscow to warm up the cold war—an alleged act of duplicity. The other view, which this writer shared was that the episode arose because in the top-heavy bureaucracy in Moscow the left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing.

The whole thing apparently was the result of the cumbersome and clumsy methods of handling the relations between the army and the policy-making committees in the Kremlin.

It was hardly plausible that, while Foreign Minister Gromyko was in Washington conferring with President Kennedy about improving relations between the two governments, anybody high up in the Soviet government would choose this very time to bring about a new crisis over the routine passage of United States armored cars and troops to Berlin.

It will be recalled that Mr. Gromyko was caught in a somewhat similar dilemma when he was at the White House last October during the very week that the crisis over Soviet missile bases in Cuba was shaping up.

He undertook then to deny flatly what later became public about the missiles. Since that episode, there have been intimations that Mr. Gromyko just didn't know the facts at the time and that the Soviet practice in such matters is not to tell anyone about a secret move unless he is directly involved as a party to the operation.

THE SOVIET government is in most respects a one-man government but the Kremlin has committees which endeavor to function upon the basis of related "party-line" plans or outlines of policy.

Often instructions issued to the army, for instance, are not revised or changed in time to meet new diplomatic developments.

Some of the erratic courses of action which emerged are never explained to the outside world. Thus, for example, the Soviet government functions under an internal censorship.

The censors on some occasions take a little time to find out whether they should suppress or allow publication of certain news. Just recently, when news was flashed around the world that the United States might be willing to sell wheat to the Communist-bloc countries, the Soviet newspapers on the following day printed nothing about it. A few days later, all of them were praising the idea.

Likewise, when President Kennedy suggested that maybe a joint expedition to the moon might be worked out, the Soviet press omitted references to that part of the President's speech to the U.N. The censors had to find out from higher-up what to do, and a few days later they allowed it to be printed.

Even the news of the latest Berlin blockade was kept out of the Soviet newspapers for two days, and finally Izvestia spoke vaguely of it as "much ado about nothing."

INASMUCH as the Soviet administrative system is so interwoven in specific directives that cannot be modified except from on high and since it takes so much time to get policy revisions, the tendency is to go ahead on the basis of existing instructions rather than to take a chance of incurring disfavor from someone higher up by deviating from the directive.

All this is an obviously unsatisfactory system of operation, and it raises a question about the extent of the use of the "hot line" for direct communication between the president of the United States and the head of the Soviet government.

Premier Khrushchev has been away from Moscow touring the interior of his vast domain and has not been in the news since Sept. 29. Doubtless his underlings have known where he has been but hesitated to bother him on his trip until the American protest was filed.

The sudden shifts and maneuvers on the part of the Soviet commanding officers in East Berlin have also caused a lot of anxiety in the past.

A United States armored unit was blocked for several hours last May for technical reasons, and the same thing happened in 1959.

Unfortunately for the Kremlin, when a directive written many months before in strictly military terms is literally applied at the wrong time, it tends to negate the impression that there has been a change for the better in the diplomatic relations between the two governments.

When the nuclear test-ban treaty was signed, the air was filled with optimistic hopes and forecasts of a new era in Soviet-American relations.

WHY WOULD the Moscow government choose the very day of the formal signing of the test-ban treaty in the Kremlin to generate a crisis atmosphere in Berlin? The answer probably is that the Soviets were caught in their own governmental red tape. They are always reluctant to admit it when they make a mistake. So the new Berlin crisis is being allowed to peter out naturally, without any official explanation of how the bungle occurred.

Now presumably there will be a renewal of the "euphoria" in which the signing of the test-ban treaty was hailed as the big first step in a series of anticipated moves toward a truce of certainly more than a few days' or a few months' duration.

Views of Our Readers

The School Report

The recent report of Prof. Roe to the Board of Education and Citizens Committee was instructive and useful.

Prof. Roe used as a standard the recommendations of "The President's Commission on Education" and several independent studies as a guide. These studies indicated a perfect setup for school systems as indicated by today's needs.

We learned that on the average in all departments of our school system we rate 52 per cent of perfect. This we find is practically the same for cities of our size in Ohio such as Piqua, Sidney, Cambridge, North Olmstead, New Philadelphia and Kent.

I know that many people have questions so as a member of the Citizens Committee I would like to suggest to school authorities that after each member of the committee has had an opportunity to report to his organization, they call an open meeting at which the general public may be better informed and questions may be asked.

It Takes Time

It took more than a year of inspections, consultations, planning and executive conferences before the Atlantic & Pacific Supermarkets Company made any formal announcement that it actually was going to build the long-anticipated meat and food processing plant which is now under construction here.

This is one reason Salem Area Industrial Development Corporation officers and Chamber of Commerce officials aren't too talkative about Friday's visit of a large midwestern firm to inspect the city's newest industrial park site along the Pennsylvania Railroad, the former city-owned 55-acre Smith well field, which has been brought to grade. Actually, the nationally-known firm is looking at several other locations, although the visitors were reportedly impressed with our city.

You can rest assured, SAIDC salesmanship was at its best.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I believe in planning ahead. We now are arguing about Christmas cards.

All the years we have been married we've had our cards printed with my name appearing first. Examples: "Greetings from Dorothy and Dick." My husband says it's time I gave him top billing for a change and have the cards read, "Greetings from Dick and Dorothy."

I was under the impression that the woman's name is supposed to appear first as a matter of etiquette. Dick says I am wrong about this and it's just a matter of which way you want to do it. Will you please settle the argument in a hurry? — TIRED OF FIGHTING.

Dear Tired: I do hope these words reach you in time. There are only 84 days left until Christmas.

On printed cards the woman's name should appear first. Since your husband would like his name to appear first for a change (big deal) you could please him by hand-signing the cards. It is correct for the person who signs for himself and another person to place the other person's name first.

Jeepers Creeper

Dear Ann: I'm a 16-year-old girl who is being pestered to death by a creep who won't give up. To make matters worse my mother thinks this boy is great.

Last week when he called I was not at home. He asked my mother if I had a date for Friday night. She suggested he call me back the next day.

I've told her a dozen times not to give him any encouragement the pest that I DID have date for Friday. The next day when he called I had to accept because Mom had put me on the spot.

I don't enjoy this boy's company. He is so sweet and attentive he makes me sick. He embarrasses me by bringing gifts. I want to get rid of him for keeps but I don't know how. Help! Please! — PIXIE FACE.

Dear Face: Girls who write and ask how to get rid of a fellow don't really want to.

It's flattering to be sought after (even by a creep) so you give him that "go away closer" routine. A girl who wants to be left alone does not accept gifts from a boy nor does she go out with him and blame her mother.

"NO" is one of the shortest, and most effective words in the English language. You ought to try it some time, Babe.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Legion Auxiliary Will Attend County Event

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: I learned this trick after raising five boys. It has to do with the chore of marking clothes for school (or camp), and just plain every day sorting laundry.

Order a rubber stamp at any office supply store with each child's name on it. Buy an uninked stamping pad and a bottle of indelible cloth marking ink to use on the pad. Almost any item of clothing can be stamped with each child's name. (For example: blue jeans have white pockets; socks can be stamped on the toes). Believe me, the stamping lasts through heavy bleaching and stays on for years, so be careful just where you stamp.

The initial expense costs a little more than for other marking methods but the same stamp can be used for years and years. My daughter, who is now in college, still uses her stamp to mark her belongings.

MRS. MAC.

DEAR HELOISE: I have had one pot of ivy in my living room for years, and all of a sudden, it just stopped growing. The leaves are coming out small, and it does not sprout anymore. What is the matter?

E.S.

DEAR E.S.: I suggest if you have had this pot of ivy for years that you remove it from the pot and see if it is root-bound. If so, you should plant it in a larger pot using fresh soil. Sometimes this works.

Anyone have any better idea? If so, write to us care of this paper. We sure would appreciate it!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My wife just hawled me out. . .

Our dresser drawers were stuck, so I took my plane and shaved off the sides and bottom, BUT I forgot to follow it up by a good waxing with a kitchen candle.

I hate to admit it, but my wife was right. I found that wax, when rubbed on a newly-clean surface, prevents more moisture from coming in, swelling the wood and making it harder to open and shut the drawers. She not only proved this but. . .

She also taught me never to plane a drawer from the top side. It makes a horrible mark. When planed from the bottom side, it doesn't show if you make a mistake.

JOE.

DEAR HELOISE: I took a box that lunch bags come in, and another one that sandwich them with foil. . .

I then tacked them to the cupboard wall. They look nice in my kitchen, and they are always handy when I'm getting ready to pack lunches.

ENJOY LIVING.

DEAR HELOISE: What do you do to preserve leftover pimentoes after using only part of a can?

RESPECTFULLY.

I put my leftover pimentoes in a glass jar and cover them with vinegar. I find this preserves them when left in my refrigerator for quite a while.

When you get ready to use the pimentoes they may be either lifted from the vinegar solution and used as is (most things you put pimento in, call for a little vinegar anyway), or. . . rinsed off and drained on a paper towel. . . then proceed as usual.

Where's the busy cook? She's busy all right, but not in the kitchen. She's attending the PTA meeting, doing a bit of shopping, meeting her husband. And all the while her Gas Range takes over. Starts the oven . . . cooks the roast to perfection . . . even holds it at "just-done" juiciness when dinner is delayed.

Only with Gas can you have the automatic Keep-Warm Oven which holds foods at the exact temperature to retain heat, but not cook. It takes the flexibility of Gas to achieve this great new break-through in cooking convenience.

For top of the range cooking, too, Gas proves its versatility . . . modern Gas Ranges have the Burner-with-a-Brain, which adjusts temperature automatically and so quickly that the most delicate vegetables won't stick or scorch and the trickiest sauces come out perfect every time.

Wonderful as the modern Gas Range features are, there are even more cooking wonders to come with Gas. Undergoing tests now in the Gas companies' laboratories are ranges that will cook your entire meal according to an instruction card which you place in a slot in the range.

You may be sure that when great new advances in cooking convenience are made, Gas Ranges will have them first.

There's nothing like a FLAME for cooking

Columbiana Clubs Hear C. A. Wells

COLUMBIANA — "Building Bridges of Friendship" was the topic of a talk given by Charles A. Wells, journalist and illustrator currently visiting Columbiana with a lecture series, before a joint meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis and Ruritan Clubs Monday.

The meeting was held at South Side School, with 128 persons present. Dinner was served by the music committee of the Parent-Teacher Organization.

Wells, a Rotarian at Newtown, Pa., said that there are 23 service clubs, some of them international, but all had a start in the United States. He continued with the statement that service clubs in foreign countries wield a great deal of influence.

He discussed world conditions and said that the United States made a mistake by not building the Aswan Dam on the Nile River in Egypt, elaborating that the Egyptians have run the Suez Canal more successfully than did the French and British.

Speaking of Latin American countries, Wells said there is more trouble coming in those countries and that we should deal with the common people rather than the rich land owner.

There were three visiting Rotarians and five visiting Kiwanis Club members, all from Salem. Rotarians were Rev. William S. Longworth, Ray Pearce and Thomas Miller. Kiwanians present were Albert Hanna, Homer Love, Don Williams, Vincent Moore and Joseph Celin.

Next week's Kiwanis meeting will feature Everett Warrick, a member, who will speak on "A Glidden Tour." Richard Berryman will be program chairman for next week's Rotary Club meeting. Speaker will be George Fisher, Columbiana high School football coach.

WELLS ALSO SPOKE before a public meeting at Grace United Church of Christ later in the evening on the topic "Christian Capitalism in the Nuclear Age—Your Job, Your Business and Savings."

Continuing his series, sponsored by the Columbiana Ministerial Association, Wells was scheduled to speak before a women's tea this afternoon at the First Methodist Church on "What Men Think of Women."

His topic at 8 tonight at Grace Church will be "The White Supremacy Is Over—What Next?"

Home.

The correctional services division would retain the present organization.

The report noted a $20 million backlog in patient support payments and said 12 temporary employees could be eliminated when accounts were current. At least 20 of the 83 full time employees could be dropped if clerical systems were improved for a net saving of nearly $50,000 a year, the report added.

Support payments could be raised about $1.5 million yearly by basing them on "gross annual income" of patients or legally responsible relatives, instead of on the present basis of "take home pay," the survey estimated. Council members said the gross income basis actually is required by present law.

The Hoover Commission urged transfer of chronic illness cases in the Soldiers and Sailors Home to federal veterans hospitals and conversion of present hospital facilities to an infirmary for temporary illness. The report noted that a "large proportion" of 219 patients in the home are eligible for transfer to veterans hospitals.

Annual savings under the transfer recommendations were figured at $200,000 annually, half of them from federal support payments.

The report suggested no immediate changes in present purposes of the Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home housing about 550 children.

The report also suggested numerous changes in Ohio penal industries for greater efficiency, standardization and pricing of items produced for state use.

In another report, released Monday, the Hoover Commission said Ohio can save an estimated $1.5 million if its recommended $1.5 million if its recommendations concerning the State Highway Safety Department are carried out.

Bricker to Build Residence Hall At Hiram College

The firm of Bricker and Bricker of Salem has been awarded the construction contract for an $800,000 women's residence hall and dining facility at Hiram College by the board of trustees.

Construction of the new facility is to begin immediately on the north edge of the campus, replacing "Old Miller" which was removed last summer. The new residence will provide accommodations for 152 women-students and will include a dining facility designed to accommodate 500 students, fed in two shifts.

The architectural firm of Hunter, Howard and Saxon of Warren designed the structure. The $800,000 cost of the structure will include furnishings and the unit will be completed and ready for occupancy by September of 1964.

Miller Hall is the third of four modern residence units planned by Hiram College for the north edge of the campus and is one of nine new buildings constructed since 1959. Whitcomb Hall, a men's residence opened in September, will be dedicated this Saturday, along with a new library annex.

by a group of foreign trade experts.

The ministers, representing France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, referred their decision to a drafting committee before final action on a text this afternoon, according to Common Market sources.

Under the American proposal, each side would nominate an expert, and a third member of the panel would be named by the international trade organization known as the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade with headquarters in Geneva.

The panel would look into U.S. claims that the overseas sales of American poultrymen have been damaged to the tune of $46 million by the Common Market's tariffs. The U.S. government has been plugging for a reduction in European tariffs on American frozen poultry.

The Americans already have declined a 10-per cent cut in European duties as "small and uncertain."

The current European levy is 13.43 cents a pound. According to U.S. officials, this has cut deeply into U.S. shipments to the Common Market, particularly to West Germany.

cupied the two outposts early in the day. The Moroccans said there were no casualties.

The Algerians claimed their forces still held both places despite a tank onslaught and strafing and bombing from Moroccan planes. They did not mention any casualties.

Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika of Algeria told a news conference that Algerian forces were poised to launch a counter-attack to drive out the invaders. The order to attack will not be given, Bouteflika said, until all efforts to reach a negotiated settlement have failed.

Fighting first occurred in the area Oct. 4-8, when Algerian troops occupied the outposts. French military maps show them on the Algerian side of the border, but Morocco contends they are on the Moroccan side of the Varnier Line, an early French border.

Nomadic desert tribes in the area claim allegiance to King Hassan and tried to obtain attachment to Morocco after Algeria became independent. There are rich iron ore deposits to the southwest and oil is believed to be there also.

Mental Health Unit May Pick Clinic Site

LISBON — A location for the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic is expected to be announced at a meeting Wednesday noon of the Mental Health Clinic committee.

Dr. Jakabs Knezinskis of Youngstown has been hired as director. It is hoped that the committee will be able to hire a psychologist, psychiatric case worker and clerk-secretary, and that the clinic will get into operation in the near future.

The association sponsored a fund drive last November and collected $16,000 to establish the clinic. Knezinskis, who formerly worked at Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown, was then hired.

Burger Chef Drive-In Will Be Built Here

The ALG Corporation yesterday exercised its option to buy three residential properties on W. State St., just east of Parker Chevrolet Co., as the location for a Burger Chef drive-in.

James Aldom, one of the stockholders of the new firm, said construction work will get under way as soon as two dwellings there can be razed.

A-Engines

prove in output of power and in simplicity.

The prospects are so hopeful that atomic experts in the AEC and the Navy are giving serious thought to the practicality of mounting nuclear engines in fighting ships as small as 4,500-ton guided missile destroyers. McNamara's experts reportedly have estimated it would cost another $180 million to build the next carrier with atomic power. The Navy's calculations arrived at a figure nearly $60 million lower.

Bound up in the whole question is the future size of the Navy's powerful carrier forces. Inclined To Cut Fleet
There have been strong hints that key defense officials are inclined to cut the Navy attack carrier fleet from 15 vessels to perhaps 13.

They reason that the advent of long range missiles and Polaris missile-firing submarines has reduced the former importance of the carrier as a strategic weapon and that the cost of maintaining the carrier strike forces at their present levels is not justified by the contribution they can make to fighting limited war.

The Navy challenges this view contending that for the foreseeable future there is no readily available, powerful enough force comparable to the carrier task group to apply U.S. might in overcoming brush fire crises in far flung areas of the globe.

McNamara is reported to have proposed keeping the attack carrier force at 15 ships into 1970, then dropping one carrier a year for two years and leveling off at 13.

The Navy was said to have balked at going below 14 carriers until the shape of things to come is clearer.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q—Is there such a thing as chronic anemia? What are the symptoms? What causes it and is there any way to control it?

A—There are several kinds of chronic anemia as distinguished from the acute form that occurs due to a hemorrhage. Chronic anemia may be due to a deficiency of iron, vitamin B-12 or other essential elements. The onset is gradual and the symptoms may consist of weakness, sore tongue, numbness or tingling of the fingers and pallor of the skin and mucous membranes.

Because there are several forms, you should have a careful study including microscopic examination of your red blood cells. Your doctor can then prescribe medicines you need to control the condition.

Although persons with leukemia usually develop some degree of anemia, anemia is never given as the diagnosis in such persons. Leukemia is a malignant disease of the blood believed to be a form of cancer and is characterized by an overabundance of white blood cells. Anemia is not a form of cancer and is characterized by a deficiency of red blood cells and hemoglobin (the red coloring matter in these cells). Persons with anemia frequently have a low white cell count, also.

Q—I am troubled with hoarseness due to mucus on my vocal cords. As I do a lot of singing this is a great handicap. Can anything be done to relieve this?

A—You should be examined by a throat specialist to rule out cancer of the larynx. This is fairly common and is not easily detected by your family doctor. If no cancer is present, one of the best remedies is the inhalation of steam with or without tincture of benzoin in the water. In order to be successful, you should have the steam kettle or generator on the floor and sit over it with your head draped with a bathrobe or sheet, thus forming a steam tent. If you do this for 15 or 20 minutes two or three times a day you should be able to sing like a canary.

Q—My doctor says I have valvular heart disease and take digitalis. What is this medicine supposed to do and how long must I take it?

A—As a result of rheumatic fever or some other infection, you have a scarring of a heart valve. This causes some leakage or back flow with each heart beat. Digitalis has a specific action on the heart causing it to contract more slowly and more forcefully. This helps to compensate for the leakage.

Although your doctor may want to adjust the dosage from time to time, you will have to take digitalis or some closely related drug indefinitely, unless it is decided that you are a fit candidate for surgical repair of the scarred valve.

Inexperienced Wellsville Entertains Salem Friday

Clarico Plans To Use 3 Units

Bengals Have Lost 6 Games In A Row

Although Wellsville has lost all its games so far this season, some Bengal fans feel they will have the best chance they have had in recent years against the Salem Quakers, whom the River City unit will entertain in a homecoming game Friday night.

Coach Ken Woods, in the midst of rebuilding the Wellsville squad, starts only three seniors, a sophomore, two freshmen and three juniors.

Last Saturday, the Bengals were shut out for the first time in a 12-0 loss to Weirton Madonna, W. Va.

At Salem, Coach Don Clarico is trying a little something new in drills this week. He is going to work with three platoons, both offensively and defensively.

IF THE STRATEGY pans out, the Quakers' mentor will use the three platoons during the clash at Wellsville.

Last year, the Bengals dropped a 32-12 decision to Salem. The two schools will be meeting for the 53rd time since the series got under way back in 1905.

Speed may play an important roll again. Wellsville has two backs probably a step or two faster than anyone the Quakers can start.

Jim Reed, a 160-lb. veteran, is exceptionally quick and a clever runner. At quarterback, Chris Thornton, 180-lb. freshman, makes the Bengals' attack click.

Dale Mobley, 155-lb. junior, Ron Daniels, 155-lb. junior, and Reed saw action against the Quakers last season.

Tom Williams, 160-lb. senior, and Roger McLain, 155-lb. junior, are slated at the end posts.

The last time Wellsville knocked off Salem was in 1927, when the Bengals trounced the Quakers 20-0.

Neither school has met a common opponent. The Bengals dropped a 38-12 decision to East Liverpool two weeks ago. The Potters (5-1) will entertain Salem, Nov. 1.

Wellsville has also lost to Beaver, Pa., 31-6; Lisbon, 38-16; Toronto, 15-12; and Midland, Pa., 50-25.

THE QUAKERS haven't won a game since they trimmed Cleveland Lincoln 18-14 in the opener. Ravenna edged Salem 16-12; but had to give the contest to the local lads on a forfeit.

Other losses absorbed by Salem are Lorain, 20-6; Farrell, Pa., 40-7; Akron North, 22-15; and Canton Timken, 14-13.

Salem Hunting Club To Sponsor Program

The annual National Rifle Association "sight in days" program will be sponsored by the Salem Hunting Club at its range on the Damascus Rd. Saturday and Sunday.

The event, opened to the public, will have experienced personnel on hand to help sight in guns at the 50 to 200-yard range.

Participants will have targets to shoot at and a trap will throw out clay pigeons.

OSU Travels To Battle USC Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes may not be superstitious but he apparently is taking no chances when his Buckeyes travel to Los Angeles this weekend to play Southern California.

Hayes, addressing a press luncheon Monday, quipped: "We haven't done too well the last two trips out there, so we are changing hotels this time. I hope it works."

In their last two Coast appearances, the Bucks bowed to UCLA, 13-3, and lost to Southern California, 17-0.

The Trojans, defending national champions, have lost to Oklahoma and Notre Dame and topped Colorado and Michigan State this year.

Ohio, after two victories, tied Illinois last Saturday 20-20 and will be facing a Trojan team that has 27 lettermen, including nine starters from last year's unbeaten squad.

Hayes told the writers, "Our running is still spotty but is getting better."

He also reported that fullback Matt Snell, who suffered a rib injury against Illinois, may not be able to play against the Trojans.

Texas Moves Into First Place In AP Grid Poll; Ohio State Picked Fourth

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas Longhorns, who've worked their way up step by step, took over the No. 1 spot today in The Associated Press poll of the nation's college football teams, leading a wholesale shuffling resulting from last weekend's stunning upsets.

The Longhorns finally climbed into the top spot by knocking off Oklahoma 28-7 Saturday. The Sooners had been rated the No. 1 team in the country going into the game.

Texas, rated No. 5 in the pre-season balloting topped by 1962 national champion Southern California, made the top after moving a step at a time up the ladder. The Longhorns were fourth in the first regular poll, third in the next, and second a week ago. Oklahoma, leader for the past two weeks, skidded to No. 6.

The special panel of sports writers and broadcasters gave Texas 51 of 55 first place votes, after wading through the week-end wreckage that showed defeat for five of the teams in last week's Top Ten.

Besides Texas, the only other winner among the elite was Wisconsin, which beat Purdue 38-20 and jumped from fifth to second. Wisconsin got the four first place votes that didn't go to Texas.

Pitt advanced from sixth to third while Mississippi jumped from 10th to fifth. Both were idle Saturday.

Salem Model Railroad Club To Hold Contest

The Salem Model Railroad Club will sponsor a locomotive pulling contest to be held at the Lape Hotel Sunday beginning at 10 a.m.

The contest will be open to the public and model railroaders in the Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania area. It is the first event of its kind to be held in this area.

Various types and sizes of Locomotives, O. S. HO, HO narrow gauge, Lionel and American Flyer will be competing.

The models are replicas of real engines that are seen on railroads passing through any town from the small shifter types and logging engines to the largest steam and newest Diesel types.

Many hours of work go into some of the models by the Railroad hobbyist to complete their detailed engines.

Entries of 100 to 150 engines are expected. Entry forms are available Sunday until 3 at the hotel.

The Salem Model Railroad Club room will be open at the Country Club Drive in the afternoon for those who wish to see a model railroad in operation.

The regional meeting will also be held at this time.

In addition to the defeat of the Sooners, Alabama was upset by Florida, 10-6; Southern Methodist bumped Navy, 32-28; Southern California was beaten 17-14 by Notre Dame; and Penn State was downed by Army, 10-7. Ohio State was tied by Illinois, 20-20.

Southern California, which led the first week but then was beaten by Oklahoma, dropped clear out of the Top Ten. The Trojans were No. 7 last week.

Penn State, ninth a week ago, also dropped out.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and total points on the 10-9-8-etc. basis:

Team Points

1. Texas (51) 546
2. Wisconsin (4) 487
3. Pittsburgh 413

7. Illinois 147
8. Georgia Tech 146

Coach Tony Mason's powerhouse romped 60-22 over once-beaten Toledo Scott to run its unbeaten record to 43 games.

From here and there:

Wilmington, winner of 11 in a row, made it into the big time by halting Circleville's 22-game winning streak, 22-21.

Bill Eskew, 5-foot-8 quarterback for Beavercreek, completed 11 of 14 passes for 129 yards and 2 touchdowns — eight of them — and his team made it 15 straight by beating Dayton Stebbins.

Niles used 55 players against Toledo Scott and led 42-6 at the half. The Red Dragons, idle this week, play Farrell, Pa., Oct. 25.

Halfback Bill Martin of Elmore rushed 265 yards in 20 attempts, boosting his six-game total to 1,152, in the 26-6 victory over Berlin Heights. Bill Blunt of Massillon scored on a 65-yard pass play, on a 28-yard sweep, and had a couple of 50-yard non-scoring jaunts against Canton McKinley.

Junior Dave Hutchins of Mansfield went 89 yards for a touchdown on a kickoff return against Elyria—but Elyria won it 15-8. Wayne Local's 12-game winning streak was halted 12-10 by Brilliant, leaving Jefferson County without an unbeaten team.

Wilmington's Bucky Scott scored all three touchdowns in the triumph over Circleville, going 70, 30 and 20 yards. Willie Rice of Lorain Admiral King, a freshman, moved up to the varsity three games ago. Two weeks ago he scored both touchdowns in the 12-8 upset over Mansfield, and Friday he gained 113 yards and scored all his team's points in the 14-8 loss to Marion.

Roger Lammers of Dover St. Joseph has scored three touchdowns in each of three games and has 74 points for six contests. Chagrin Falls—which has won by 66-0 and 62-14 in its last two starts—is unbeaten in 25.

Cleveland Collinwood has a 275-pound tackle named Jeff Adie who shifts to fullback inside the five-yard line. He's scored three times.

Alliance halfback Win Young raced 183 yards in 14 carries and scored twice in the victory over Warren. He has a 70-point total and more than 900 yards gained for the year.

Steve Budnick of Millersport has scored 70 points in the last three games. Dayton Roth's unbeaten team is made up of sophomores and juniors, and eight backs have scored touchdowns. Vebie Walder, the team's aerial artist, has completed 24 of 46 passes for 403 yards and 6 touchdowns. The coach is Kenny Am-ling, former Wilmington College standout.

Niles Regains Top Spot In AP Grid Survey; Potters Dumped From Top 10

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The top spot in the Associated Press high school football poll proved too precarious a perch for Sandusky and Niles McKinley took over the lead again today after a week's absence.

The Blue Streaks, held to eight first downs by a rampaging team of Findlay Trojans, needed a 73-yard touchdown run by Tim Stokes in the final minutes to eke out a 12-12 tie.

The deadlock dumped Coach Earle Bruce's team to fourth place in the poll.

Some of the other leading teams had a tough time, too. Springfield South was held to an 8-6 score by Dayton Chaminade. Massillon edged Canton McKinley by only 24-20. Akron South was dumped 6-0 by Akron Garfield, and East Liverpool fell 24-14 to Youngstown Rayen.

When the smoke cleared, 50 sports editors decided Niles McKinley, 1961 champion, was the best in the Buckeye realm.

Coach Tony Mason's powerhouse romped 60-22 over once-beaten Toledo Scott to run its unbeaten record to 43 games.

PETE CARTER, shown moving forward in the downswing (photograph), will not pull back at the finish, as shown by superimposed drawing.

Fault In Forward Motion Can Wreck Better Bowling Scores

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Pulling away from the pins is one way to wreck your score. Once you start the approach, always be in forward motion. Pete Carter is one who never makes the mistake of "rarin' back," as we say in my native Missouri. From the second he starts his downswing everything about him is going forward.

Falling to keep in forward motion is not a common mistake with professional bowlers. It's too costly. They couldn't do it frequently and stay in the big time.

Some pretty good league bowlers, however, do have the fault. They start out all right, bent forward and moving forward on the first step or two, shown in the accompanying illustration. Pulling erect just before or at release means you are fighting yourself. Part of you is going in one direction and the other part is headed the other way. This not only results in loss of balance, it can ruin the smooth, gliding release that is essential to a good roll.

It is particularly important that you bend forward from the waist during the slide, which is the point at which so many go wrong.

Star Back Dropped For Disciplinary Reasons

Sooners Cut Looney Off Football Squad

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The University of Oklahoma football team became the object of nationwide surprise for the second time in three days Monday when star halfback Joe Don Looney was dropped from the squad for disciplinary reasons.

The first surprise came Saturday, when the Sooners, then rated No. 1, were soundly outplayed by Texas and defeated 28-7.

Coach Bud Wilkinson declined to comment on the incident. He would not say if the loss to Texas had anything to do with the dismissal of the 224-pound speedster from Fort Worth, Tex.

But Looney's father, Don Looney, a star end for Texas Christian in the late 1930s, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that Wilkinson telephoned him to say: "I am sorry it happened. He had lots of ability, but he had some bad practices last week, and we decided that this cost us the ball game."

Looney's father said his son had a sore foot last week which hampered him in practice.

The elder Looney told the Star-Telegram that Wilkinson said the OU senior football players had taken a vote and decided they could do better without his son.

A newsmen was told by OU end John Flynn, Looney's roommate, that the big senior had moved out of the dormitory and headed for a relative's home in Kansas.

Rumors had persisted for some time that such a move was brewing. Looney reportedly was the object of some displeasure from the coaching staff when he skipped spring training to try out for the track team.

Compiled 22-10 Record For Cubs

Dick Ellsworth Named NL Comeback Player Of Year

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Dick Ellsworth's comeback baseball player-of-the-year in the annual Associated Press Poll, is happy to get the award but never wants to win it again.

"No thanks," said Ellsworth who compiled a 22-10 record with the Chicago Cubs in 1963 after a horrible 9-20 mark in 1962. "If you have to lose 20 games one year and then come back and win 20 the next, I don't want it anymore."

The 23-year-old left-hander credits the development of a slider for his season, which included a 2.10 earned run average with 75 walks, and 185 strikeouts in 290 2-3 innings.

Ellsworth collected 24 votes in the balloting by 68 baseball writers and finished far ahead of Curt Simmons of St. Louis, another southpaw.

Simmons picked up 11 votes. St. Louis shortstop Dick Groat was third with 10, and Ron Santo, the Chicago Cubs' third baseman, received 9.

Browns Ask Waivers On Injured Lucci

CLEVELAND (AP) — The effects of bruising contact with the New York Giant Sunday have left the Cleveland Browns with a critical shortage of line backers.

The Browns Monday night asked waivers on Mike Lucci, who suffered cartilage damage to a knee. He is sharing a room in the Shaker Medical Center Hospital with Captain Galen Fiss, also a line backer. Fiss has a muscle tear below the calf.

Sam Tidmore, pressed into service at line backer against the Giants, aggravated a knee injury and can't go full steam.

If other teams in the National Football League waive on Lucci, he'll be out for at least four games. The damaged knee will keep him inactive for that period of time at least, and perhaps longer.

Accenting the need for a line-backer is the fact Philadelphia, whom the Brown play here Sunday, has one of the most spend-dangerous passing attacks in the league.

A high school youth's allowance is really just a down-payment on what he really will spend.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

We are going to have a horse pulling contest Saturday evening, Oct. 19th, out here behind the barn here at the Country Store.

There will be a lot of good teams and drivers here. Mr. Rudibaugh will be here, so will his son. The father tells me his son now has a team of horses which just beat the champion of this area.

If you can make it why not stop down Saturday night, October 19th.
